U. S. FREIGHTER VICTIM OF MINE NEAR AUSTRALIA

All But One Member of Crew Saved as Ship Goes to Bottom

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Naval Minister William Hughes announced today that the 5,883-ton American freighter City of Rayville, blew up and sank last night off Cape Otway, near Melbourne, but said 37 members of the crew were saved.

Reuters, British news agency, quoted some members of the crew as blaming sabotage for the blast, but Hughes said the sinking probably was caused by a mine.

(The City of Rayville was the first American ship to be sunk by war activity since the outbreak of hostilities Sept. 3, 1939. The U. S. neutrality law bars American ships from belligerent ports but Australia has not been declared within the zone of conflict.)

Naval and fishing boats assisted in the rescue of the survivors, who were landed at a coastal town. The missing man was identified as Third Engineer James Bryan, 22, of Norfolk, Va.

Second in 24 Hours
Hughes had announced previously the sinking of an unidentified British freighter in Australian waters and said this also was due to mines. The Rayville thus was the second ship sunk within 24 hours.

The explosion occurred while the American freighter was enroute from Adelaide to Melbourne, about 10 miles off the coast, and the blast wrecked the forepart of the vessel and hurled wreckage and a portion of the lead cargo through the superstructure.

Second Officer Green, who was on the bridge when the blast occurred, said:

"We saw nothing suspicious. After the explosion the ship died by the head with incredible speed. There was no need to call the crew to boat stations because they were already there. I went overboard when she was three-quarters down and was picked up after 15 minutes."

SEC. HULL'S COMMENT

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Secretary Hull said today that the United States planned no action in connection with the sinking of the American freighter City of Rayville pending a complete investigation.

In reply to questions the secretary of state said preliminary information indicated that the vessel had been struck by a floating mine, but that the complete circumstances had not been determined.

In reply to another question, he said no consideration would be given to the possibility of a mine.

Barret Has Plan to Protect Votes

Chicago, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Illinois' Attorney General-elect George F. Barret says that when he begins his duties the first of the year he will have worked out a plan "that will definitely end election thievery in Cook county."

Barret, Chicago Republican, said last night that he would call a conference next week of all civic organizations which participated in the campaign against vote frauds at Tuesday's election, to discuss "evidence obtained on election law violations."

He added that by the first of the year he expected to know exactly what additional powers would be necessary to fight vote frauds, "and I will go to the legislature, if necessary, to procure them."

U. S. District Attorney J. Albert Wolf opened a new inquiry meanwhile which he indicated was designed to stop election frauds in Chicago. He said several civic leaders had been summoned to relate any knowledge they might have about any irregularities in Tuesday's balloting.

Off Reservation

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Picture the plight of Chief White Eagle, 52-year-old Indian from the Cherokee Reservation at Tulsa, Okla., who lost himself in the wilds of Flushing, Queens while tracking a friend.

The chief was looking for the Shinnecock Hills reservation at Southampton, Long Island, but the only trail markers he found were subway signs and the palefaces he met didn't seem to know their own hunting grounds.

Magistrate Jenkin R. Hockett finally set him on the right path—and tossed in a coin or two to replenish the chief's diminishing funds.

The program for Monday is one of the most detailed ever planned here and the Dixon Chamber of Commerce has co-operated by arranging closing hours for all stores between 10 and 12 o'clock. Local organizations have assured William Haefliger and his committee that delegations will appear in the morning parade and participate in the program at the high school.

Organizations to Participate
Included among those who have signified their desire to share in the activities are the city band, Grand Army of the Republic, city officials, Women's Relief Corps, Spanish-American War Veterans, the auxiliary of the Spanish-American Veterans, Boy Scouts and their drum and bugle corps, Girl Scouts, Veterans of Foreign Wars and auxiliary, Junior American Legion, and American Legion and Auxiliary.

Beiers Purchase Old Bakery in Freeport

Announcement was made at the offices of the Beier bakery today of the purchase of the Freeport Baking Company in that city, which is to be operated in the future by George and Arthur Beier of this city. The deal has been consummated through Attorney L. H. Burrell, referee in bankruptcy.

In announcing the purchase, it was stated that J. V. Cook will continue as manager of the Freeport branch bakery and all of the former employees will be retained, with others to be added later. The bakery is one of the oldest in northern Illinois, having been established 75 years ago when it was known as the Roper bakery.

About ten years ago members of the Roper family disposed of the business to baking interests from Waterloo and Dubuque, Iowa, who have operated it since.

The engineers, including Frederick Lienhard of New York, associate of the bridge's designer, Leon S. Moisseiff, represented nearly every agency involved in the construction job.

Lienhard, arriving last night in Seattle, answered "not true" when told of an assertion by Clark H. Eldridge, chief engineer of the bridge, that federal lending agencies had insisted on use of eastern designs in the bridge.

Cancels His Bet

Athens, Tenn., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Alvis Estes von another one of those wheelbarrow-ride election bets. The loser was a young woman.

Said Estes: "I've seen women try to push wheelbarrows before. I'll just cancel the bet."

In 1920 he was appointed bridge engineer for the state of Washington, an office he held for seven years before winning a like post

CITY TO OBSERVE ARMISTICE DAY IN PATRIOTIC STYLE

Parade and Program to Be Held In Dixon Monday A. M.

In what may be the most significant Armistice Day since 1917, Dixon's observance of historic November 11 will be especially pertinent to local men of draft age, who are to be given the opportunity to hear a discussion of selective service by Paul G. Armstrong, state director.

The program for Monday is one of the most detailed ever planned here and the Dixon Chamber of Commerce has co-operated by arranging closing hours for all stores between 10 and 12 o'clock. Local organizations have assured William Haefliger and his committee that delegations will appear in the morning parade and participate in the program at the high school.

Seek to Maintain Wage-Hour Levels in Defense Work

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Maintenance of wage and hour standards on defense projects was put down today as a primary concern of the war department in its efforts to press forward the nation's rearmament program.

There must be no relaxation of these standards, the department declared, if the program is to move "effectively forward."

Referring directly to construction of thousands of army cantonments in preparation for expansion of the land forces, Robert P. Patterson, assistant secretary of war, issued last night a declaration setting forth that general labor policy and calling for payment of overtime in factories where a longer-than-normal work-week is necessary to production.

The statement topped off a series of defense developments which started with President Roosevelt's press conference disclosure that roughly half of the output of American war materials, including the latest type of big bombers, was being made available to the British.

If the sharing policy, which Roosevelt emphasized was but a rule-of-thumb standard, is applied strictly to current big bomber production Britain may get about 40 of these formidable planes in the next few weeks.

In another development, the priorities board granted the British purchasing commission the right to buy 12,000 additional planes of various types in this country, bringing to 26,000 the number of military aircraft for which they have placed American orders.

Engineers Converge on Wreck of Tacoma Narrows

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Engineers planning reconstruction of the Narrows bridge converged on Tacoma today while workmen hacked at what remained of the concrete roadway with jack-hammers.

The workmen were attempting to remove the sagging concrete and steel work in order to reduce the strain on cables and towers, warped by the shift of weight when the main part of the roadway plunged into Puget Sound Thursday. Clearing of debris yesterday permitted resumption of railroad service on tracks under the eastern approach of the collapsed span.

The engineers, including Frederick Lienhard of New York, associate of the bridge's designer, Leon S. Moisseiff, represented nearly every agency involved in the construction job.

Lienhard, arriving last night in Seattle, answered "not true" when told of an assertion by Clark H. Eldridge, chief engineer of the bridge, that federal lending agencies had insisted on use of eastern designs in the bridge.

Seeking material for a book Miss Bosanquet began her journey in May, 1939, soon after arriving in Canada from her native England. She worked during the summer at a farm in mid-Canada to replenish her funds, and crossed the border at High Gate Spring, Vt., on October 20.

As she left Stamford, Miss Bosanquet said she hoped to reach New York by nightfall.

Winter of Severe War in Air, at Sea Forecast by Hitler

The War Today!

(This daily feature, conducted by De Witt MacKenzie, is being written by Fred Vande-schmidt while MacKenzie is taking a brief vacation.)

There is increasing evidence, factual and suggestive, that Hitler is concentrating the total energies of Germany's naval and air force on smashing the merchant ship transport of England and making it impossible for considerable quantities of American planes, guns and munitions to reach British shores.

This may be the "fatal axis blow" which the totalitarian press of Germany and Italy has been double-talking about for weeks. It is, unquestionably, the punch behind Hitler's ironic references to American arms production at Munich last night . . . references "applauded" by the crutch of R. A. F. bombs in that same Bavarian city.

Said Hitler: "We shall see who is blockaded in a few months; we or the others."

The factual evidence of Hitler's determination in this respect already lies in Davey Jones locker and it is piling up as fast as the bubbles can rise to the surface.

A pocket battleship or something that looked like one has attacked, and, if the Germans are right, destroyed a whole convoy in mid-Atlantic.

Stukas, day after day, are plunging at the grimy clusters of grey-faced freighters that ply tirelessly between these shores and Britain's.

U-boats, slipping beneath the water from the North Cape to Brest, are stabbing more and more ships' bottoms.

So the decisive phase of this war is likely to be fought out in the cold spume somewhere west of Land's End throughout this cruel winter, and perhaps not so far from North American shores, either.

The beating which England has taken from the air has settled nothing. But even Winston Churchill concedes that the submarine menace, combined with that of the Stuka and made more terrible now by the guns of the surface raider, can "touch the life of the state". To keep from losing, or at least to avoid a disastrous stalemate, England must excel the axis in planes and arms . . . to say nothing of food.

As in Flanders, Hitler is trying to "divide and conquer" at sea.

Italy's Greek adventure may be primarily a device to keep strong units of the British fleet busy in the eastern Mediterranean all winter, when some of them might be filling the gaps in the protection of Atlantic convoys.

The Italians moreover have boasted that their submarines, as well as their planes, are operating from an Atlantic base, concentrating on Britain's South Atlantic shipping while Hitler's U-boats prow the waters to the north.

Before this is settled the battleships which Hitler has built and hoarded may come out of their havens westward; to another, unpredictable, Jutland.

Let this seem too morose to the friends of the British, let it be underlined that Britannia still rules the waves and there is every evidence she intends to try to keep on ruling them.

Churchill and his Admiralty will buy, build, beg, borrow or requisition every cargo bottom physically and legally within their grasp. Already, they've risked Soviet vexation by taking over two dozen ships belonging to the three little Baltic countries which Russia swallowed last summer.

British Bomb Hall Minutes After His Speech

(By The Associated Press)

British bombs fell last night on Munich, where Adolf Hitler addressed his party comrades on the 17th anniversary of the Nazi beer cellar putsch and the British Press Association declared one stick of explosives hit the meeting hall.

A large fire broke out, the press association said.

Informed Berlin sources said Hitler had completed his address when the attack was made; British press dispatches said the raiders flew over Munich 14 minutes after Hitler was scheduled to begin speaking and attacked for more than an hour and a half.

British planes bombed Turin, in northern Italy, last night, as well as Cagliari, Sardinia, the Italian high command reported, and listed casualties as 10 dead and several injured.

The raids moved the Rome newspaper Il Giornale d'Italia to say today that "tremendous" air bombardments of England and its allies would start immediately in reprisal for the bombings of Italian cities.

Italians Withdraw

In Salonika, Greece, reports were heard today that Italian forces in Albania were withdrawing from the Koritza sector, and in Rome there were reports of new "diplomatic moves" by Germany and Italy, perhaps during this week-end.

Greek troops steadily tightened their ring about the Italian base at Koritza with the occupation of more dominating hilltops while successfully resisting fascist pressure along the whole 100-mile battlefield, authoritative Greek sources declared.

For several days Greek artillery has been shelling the city where some sources estimated 30,000 Italians were "trapped".

Greek spokesmen in Athens said more than 2,500 Italians had been captured in the two-weeks-old war, including the commanding general of the fascist centaur division and other officers.

A British report said Marshal Badoglio, Ethiopian campaign veteran, had replaced the unidentified Italian officer in command of the invasion of Greece.

Hitler "Ready for World"

Nazi Germany celebrated the anniversary of the Munich beer hall putsch with an air of confident jubilation highlighted by Hitler's declaration that the reich was ready, "as never before", to face "any combination in the world."

His words forecast a severe winter of warfare—both on sea and in the air—against Britain. He rejected all thought of compromise as described himself as the "hardest man" in Germany.

Hitler referred sarcastically to the United States at several points and asserted that German production capacity was the greatest in the world.

The Japanese newspaper Kokumin demanded today that the Japanese government "eliminate" as traitors all Japanese who opposed that nation's entry into the Rome-Berlin axis, intimating a violent behind-the-scenes dispute over the wisdom of Tokyo's foreign policy.

Republican Wins in Missouri Race

St. Louis, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Republican Forrest C. Donnell's majority for governor of Missouri stood well above the 3,500 mark today—dramatically close but apparently safe.

"He's in," said Charles A. Ferguson, Republican state chairman, after a nerve-racking day and night of checking the vote almost down to the last absentee ballot.

Returns from every precinct in the state—over half of them official with the absentees added in—gave Donnell 909,769 and Lawrence E. McDaniel, his Democratic opponent, 905,972. That meant a lead of 3,797 for Donnell.

McDaniel carried the absentee vote in 97 reported counties by 5,338 to 4,073 but he couldn't overtake Donnell.

Donnell's choice as the governor-elect could be upset only if the secretary of state's official canvass of last Tuesday's vote should turn up glaring mistakes in the county-by-county tabulation.

More than 10,000 absentee votes were counted yesterday in one of the most exciting affairs of the state's history.

Cassidy Ready to Seek Court Order on Sales Tax Law

Chicago, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Attorney General John Cassidy was prepared today to seek a court order countermanning State Finance Director A. M. Carter's revision of the sales tax structure.

Carter ruled recently that the building industry is exempt from payment of sales taxes. The ruling would cut an estimated $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 from the state's annual revenue.

The attorney general appeared yesterday in Circuit court to oppose a move by the material service corporation for non-payment of the sales tax in accordance with Carter's ruling. A refund of approximately $75,000 in taxes to contractors and building supply companies also was involved.

After the court continued the case until November 15, the attorney general served notice on Carter of his intention to seek a court order against the tax ruling.

Cassidy's letter to Carter reminded the finance director that the attorney general's office is the official legal adviser of code department offices. The attorney general said he was not consulted regarding the tax revision.

Total Votes in Tuesday Election 48,238,481

Washington, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The total of votes cast for President Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie in Tuesday's election amounted to 48,238,481 in today's latest unofficial tabulation, indicating that the final presidential count, covering also minor party candidates, would be close to 50,000,000.

The final 1936 total was 45,647,117.

The latest tabulation showed that Roosevelt received 26,361,762 votes and Willkie 21,876,719 in 120,620 of the country's 127,245 voting units, making Roosevelt's plurality 4,485,043.

The electoral vote standing remained unchanged, with the president having 449 from 38 states and Willkie 82 from 10 states.

The minutes of the October meeting were read and accepted as was the treasurer's report.

Each Woman's club is allowed time over WROK of Rockford on which to present a program. Mrs. Kathryn Herbst, radio chairman will try and work up a program to be presented at a future date. Time in WROK every Tuesday from 3-3:30 P. M. you may hear the local club entertaining you.

The Woman's club has been asked to take charge of the Red Cross roll call for this year. The motion was made and seconded to take this over, the public welfare chairman, Mrs. Alta Childs to be in charge. Let everyone in the community cooperate in this most worthy cause by joining your local Red Cross.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moulton reported that the Women's Relief Corps of Dixon had presented two flags recently to the schools taught by Mrs. Earl Fish and Mrs. Maurice Clutz.

Mrs. Gladys Jacobs reported on the trip made to Chicago, October 18th, also that there were 13 seats available in Sunday's bus for November 16. Anyone wishing to see the flower show at Garfield Park, call Mrs. Jacobs if you desire to go, she will take reservations this week.

The Lee county fall meeting was reviewed by Mrs. Minnetta Moore. The meeting was then turned over to the chairman of the Fine Arts Committee, Mrs. Katherine Cover, who introduced the following program:

Piano solo, "Serenade" and "Alice Blue Gown" by Miss Jackie Canode.

A "Vacation Trip to Europe" read by Mrs. Margaret Patterson.

This was a letter written to a friend by one of these girls while touring Europe recently. They related their experiences and many of the customs of Europeans, their visits in such prominent cities as Paris, Versailles, Milan, Brussels and while in Holland. This was most interesting, but time did not permit Mrs. Patterson to finish the letter.

The program concluded with Gene Eichor of Rockford, who gave a short talk on the Fundamental Principles of Music. Mr. Eichor favored with several accordion numbers and piano solo.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses: Mesdames Katherine Cover, Margaret Patterson, Mary Spangler, Carrie B. Crawford, Lois Gross, Ethel (Lott) Miller, Anna Richwine and Blanche Mong.

School Notes

High school paper revived—During the past week the student council of the high school debated and finally decided to re-continue the "Internos" school paper of two years ago; however, the revived issue might appear with a new name. This project is to be sponsored by the student council and the staff is to be selected from try-out writings presented by eligible members of the junior and senior classes.

Wednesday morning the council met and elected their editor, Frances Kelley, and assistant editors Betty Shaulis and Joan Wasson.

The school Journal sheet will appear every two weeks and will contain articles on sports, clubs, social doings, school programs and whatever else of import concerning the school's functioning.

Franklin Wildcats open season at Rollo.

November 9th is the official opening date for the "Grovers" 1940-41 basketball team. This Saturday will see Rollo, last year's GRVC champions, and Franklin, the 1940 Route "72" champs in action for the first time this year.

Rollo presents a veteran outfit led by flashy Billy Benson, a real spark plug if there ever was one. They will have a veteran team, fast, tricky, and good shots.

Franklin presents a tall heavy team which should go places before the season is over. So far their ball handling is excellent. The greatest weakness being on the shooting side and in their follow-in drives after their plays.

Saturday's games start at 7:30, being played in the Rollo gym. As a project of the social science department, an election was arranged and held Tuesday noon. As nearly as possible all points were to duplicate an actual election polls and procedure was nearly identical. Marion Stillwell registered the voters, Charles Baker and Franklin Heller were judges, and Bernice Burhenn was clerk. A ballot was prepared listing the major national and local candidates for the Republican and Democratic parties.

It is to be hoped that such a project, besides providing an interesting activity, also helped to train in election procedures.

Incidentally the vote for president came out 43-44 for Wilkie. The senior play, "Spring Fever" will be presented Friday evening, Nov. 15 at the Kersten gymnasium at 8 P. M.

The cast follows: Howard Brant, a senior at Brookfield college—Rodney Maronde

Ed Burns, a chemistry student—Wallace Heckman

Vic Lewis, an art student—Melvin Brucker

Lou Herron, a journalism student—Maxine Kelley

Mrs. Spangler, the landlady—Adeline Smith

Anne Purcell, Howard's heart-interest—Gertrude Unger

Vivian George, Vic's heart-interest—Joan Wasson

Henry Purcell, Anne's father, a rich manufacturer—Robert Meyers

Phoebe Purcell, Anne's mother—Frances Kelley

Maude Corey, Howard's spinster aunt from California—Betty Shaulis

Professor Virgil Bean of the zoology department—Lawrence Hartzell

Dr. Dixon, President of Brookfield college—Donald Bennett

The play in brief:

The students rooming with Mrs. Spangler include a chemistry student who turns his room into a laboratory where he experiments with a substitute for dynamite, an art student who sets up his dais and easel in the living room, a senior who types frantically at a term paper on zoology—a paper which is necessary if he is to graduate the next day.

A journalism student drops in occasionally. She forgets to reserve rooms at a hotel for her millionaire father and mother. She plans for her father to stop at the rooming house of Mrs. Spangler. He is mistaken for a man who is to pose as a Bolshevik for the art students. The students attempt to force him to pose. As a result he departs in great fury, refusing to present a new science building to the college.

But why tell more. Come and see how the students put on a death-bed scene in order to get the millionaire to promise the science building to the college. Also, see the zoology student's aunt attempt to influence the zoology professor to "pass" her nephew.

The play is fast, furious, and funny with loud explosions every now and then from the chemistry "lab" for good measure—and it all ends entirely to everybody's satisfaction.

Come and see the one day of "Spring Fever" at Brookfield college.

Random shots: Mr. Fox attended the high school teachers conference at Urbana Thursday and Friday. Teachers from all schools in the state were present. Among the most interesting of the speakers was Ruth Strong from Columbia University, foremost woman in guidance education.

The dance committee reports that dancing lessons will begin the first week in December. Elsie Neff of Dixon will be the teacher.

Noon-hour activities will be in full swing, the first week after the senior play. The committee in charge has a very good schedule planned for the noon-hour. Everyone is anxious for the activities to begin.

Poet's Corner

LEST WE FORGET

"Truth crushed to earth shall rise again",
A sage of yore these wise words said,
This adage seems a beacon light
Tho' he who wrote it, long be dead.

Let not our hearts be cold or numb
And crushed beneath a chilling fray,
More than a few shall strive and care,
In hopeful trust for brighter day.

Let not the land, we love so well,
The have our fathers fought to save,
Be handed o'er to fate untold,
In this, the home of free and brave.

Be strong, so others who are weak
Shall falter not amid the fight,
Place sturdy shoulder to the wheel
Bright breaks the dawn, o'er darkest night!

Lest we forget, gaze once again
At stars and stripes a floating gay,
Think then of blood so nobly given,
Lest we forget, forget to pray.

WHEN BURNING DOLLARS MAKE THEM LAST LONGER

When it comes to burning dollars in the form of stoking the furnace every day, you want to and can make them last longer.

We recommend, as we have for many years in the past, GLENDORA coal.

You'll find many satisfied users on our list for they appreciate its cleanliness and more heat per unit. If you want to stretch those coal dollars a little farther, next time you need coal PHONE 57 and ask for GLENDORA.

COLD WEATHER CALLS FOR "RUMPUS ROOM"

The saddest spectacle we know is a nice home with "no place to play." In any home there is almost always a likely place for a "rumpus room"—an attic that's never used or a corner in the basement that's just going to waste. All it takes is a little imagination, a little effort and some inexpensive building materials. We're full of ideas on the subject. Now, with cold weather coming on, you'll be wanting some place around your home for a little recreation. Stop in the first time you're down our way on First street, and let's talk it over.

LET US OBSERVE THIS DAY FOREVER MORE - AS THE END OF AMERICAN WARS

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 11th.

Our First Line Of Defense

IS A

UNITED NATION

This has been, and still is, a tottering world. Day after day men fall in fatal pain inflicted by the ravages of a turbulent world.

Governments have and are still likely to fall... crushed because the torch of liberty, freedom, and true democracy no longer lights their way.

Principles and ideals are meeting the fatal sting of criticism, for the torch bearers are putting above all their personal gain and biased disbeliefs.

America can and will not fall if we make our first line of defense a united nation. A populace that can shake off the storm of political difference, put clashing personalities and beliefs in the background, and carry on with unshaken confidence in its chosen leaders.

On this Armistice Day let us all pledge ourselves sincerely and completely to keep Peace with a stalwart first line of defense... a UNITED NATION!

Another Armistic Day

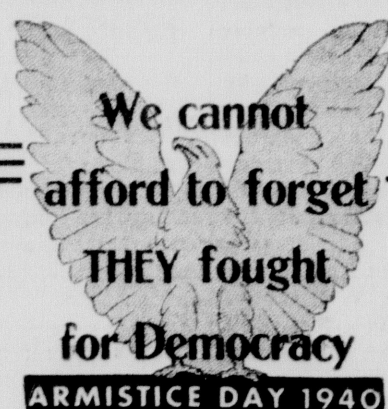

Finds Democracy's Torch Glowing

The torch of liberty, freedom and true democracy burns on—twenty-two years after the valiants of the first World War flung it into the hands of all the people who would live on... for safe keeping. We must not break that trust. The most turbulent storm shall not put out the light. Our way—the democratic way of living—must go on. Let us not forget, Americans, that we are the torchbearers whose hands can still keep Liberty shining brightly, however dark this present night may be.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and detested, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Closer, But Not Enough

President Roosevelt got 25,941,919 of Tuesday's ballots. Willkie received 21,364,542. The difference was 4,577,377. That is little more than the population of Cook county.

In other words, if a number of persons equal to Cook county's population had decided to vote differently, and if they had been strategically located in some of the states Mr. Roosevelt won, Willkie would have been the man of the hour, and Mr. Roosevelt would have been a has-been.

Of course, the big IF stands in the way. The fact is that people voted as they did, and Mr. Roosevelt got a landslide.

But let us not forget that, after all, only a little more than 4 1/2 million voters separated the contestants. On such flimsy majorities, as compared to a total population of 135 million, do thumping electoral majorities rest.

However, the election was won according to the rules, but the total vote shows a weakening of the Roosevelt following. In 1936 Mr. Roosevelt had 11 million more votes than Landon, and in 1932 he had 7 million more than Hoover. We could go on juggling figures to show that Mr. Roosevelt practically lost this election, but that electoral majority makes it a very tough job.

Now we arrive at a situation that must give Mr. Roosevelt some concern about the immediate future. The whole House of Representatives and a third of the Senate comes up for balloting every two years. We shall assume, for the time being, that the talk of dictatorship and loss of the vote was due to fears stirred up by the unprecedented third term nomination. In two years, unless Mr. Roosevelt's course has been pleasing to the people, and unless the House pleases the people, this 4 1/2 million Roosevelt majority can join the opposition and play hob with the New Deal majority in the House. It could also upset things considerably in the Senate.

Now a President trying to get along with an obstinate Senate and House Congress has a terrible time. No executive woes such discord. Commentators already are saying Mr. Roosevelt had better walk the chalk line, and Congress the same—or else.

But what chalk line do they have in mind? Evidently the voters who cast ballots for Roosevelt want more of the same dish they have enjoyed for the last two terms. Evidently they are satisfied with the success of the last two terms. Evidently they are not upset by the abolition of the third term tradition. And they are a clear majority of the folks who bothered to vote.

That's something to ponder.

White Collar to Overalls

America changes. It discards its white collar. It puts on overalls.

Dad wore the honest blue denim when he drove the team into the field, or carried his lunchbox to the plant.

But Dad and Ma wanted something better for their sons than the overalls and the calloused hands of the laboring man. So they schemed and they scraped, and lo and behold, they got son educated.

The difficulty was that other dads and other mothers had the same idea. Soon we were in a predicament. We found we were educating 80 per cent of our youth for 20 per cent of its job possibilities. Now comes the national defense emergency. We find a serious shortage of skilled mechanics. We find machinist apprentices woefully lacking. We find too many trained to push pencils or to sell or to do the nation's white collar work, and too few to do well the manual work which requires a degree of skill and training. Of the 130 occupational tasks listed by the national defense advisory board, the greater number is of the manual type.

Skill with the hands commands good pay and hand work skillfully done commands respect. America is a mechanical nation. It has more machinery than any other country. That the public appreciates good workmanship is demonstrated by its purchases.

The trend is away from white collars, and back to overalls.

Holding Prices Down

The only excuse, socially speaking, for "big business" is that by producing goods in quantity and efficiently, they are made cheaper and therefore more readily available to more people.

When "big business" becomes a monopoly, however, its tendency is to hold prices up as high as the traffic will bear without actually halting consumption. That is the traditional explanation of the way the system works.

Right in the face of the theory there now flies the Aluminum Co. of America, which is certainly "big business" and generally regarded as a monopoly producer of virgin aluminum. Three times during the past year the company has reduced its prices for aluminum ingot, thus making a voluntary reduction in the company's gross income for the year of perhaps $5,000,000.

What goes on here? Is the idea spreading that even "big business" can make more money in the long run by reducing prices, passing on to the consumer the savings of mass production, and trusting to greater sales volume to make up the foregone profits? It is interesting to see the Aluminum Co. out ahead of the parade of those who are determined to avert the general price rise that so often accompanies "boom" conditions.

News Behind THE NEWS

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Nov. 9.—Japanese military politicians are playing sweet and low, but rumblings portending another coming crisis have been detected at Mr. Roosevelt's seismograph.

The Japanese appear to have quieted down only to cover the withdrawal of their extended lines, they are simply drawing in their forces to the ports. There they hope to control China indefinitely with a minimum cost, somewhat like the British did in the past.

But proof that this does not mean peace lies in confidential advice suggesting that the bulk of the withdrawal forces are being prepared for use against Singapore or the Dutch East Indies.

Roosevelt's diplomatic agents are steeling themselves for trouble.

Nervousness was apparent, particularly among business groups, because Roosevelt failed not only to act, but even to issue a forceful statement calling for national unity immediately after election. Certain of Roosevelt's friends were inclined to attribute this neglect to Willkie. The congratulatory telegram from the Republican nominee was not so worded as to encourage such a reply. Then further, they leaned to the assumption that political peace at home is up to Republicans rather than FDR.

As a matter of purely personal opinion, the future seems from here to be entirely up to Roosevelt alone. Not only in words but in steps he takes, he will direct the future course.

Dictatorships have arisen in Europe not so much by violent revolution as by gradual suppression of opposition. A Democratic fasism could arise in this country only if opposition is suppressed.

That prospect seems impossible. Roosevelt has unique new central government powers which theoretically could be used to weaken and dissipate his foes. But even if any executive were so minded, he could not dissipate 22,000,000 more people. Strength shown by the Republicans at the polls, therefore, is an absolute guarantee that dependent fears will not be realized.

Roosevelt in the next four years must not only represent as president the 25,000,000 who voted for him, but the 22,000,000 people who voted against him.

A few of Willkie's friends (but not Willkie himself) were said to fear that an unrestricted promise of unity from them might be construed too far by such an aggressive nature as Roosevelt's. They thought in their first despair a blind offer of unlimited allegiance might cause the ideals in which they believe to be blanketed.

Unity, as congressional Republicans see it and promise it, does not mean that. Nothing that was true last Monday became untrue on Wednesday. No basic principle which was deep and true to any Republican on Monday, became shallow or untrue on Wednesday. No sacrifice of ideals can be involved in Democratic unity, for that in itself would bring single-handed government.

But such Republican leaders as Senator McNary have for years worked daily on a friendly basis with the White House without abandoning their principles.

The Republicans have no cause for regrets. Nearly all who can be contacted here think the fight was good, hard, and clean, and satisfyingly worthwhile in view of its educational aspects and the success in mustering a formidable opposition vote which is a guarantee of two-party government.

Criticism which cropped up inside early in the campaign against Willkie was entirely washed away by the result. Everywhere among Republicans here admiration is expressed for the unprecedented energy he devoted to voicing and advertising the principles of Republican opposition.

The new spend-lend program is likely to take a scattered form rather than being rolled up into one big lump.

First, and most likely, will come a substantial appropriation for militarizing highways by adding broad shoulders for trucks, strengthening bridges to withstand transportation of heavy armament, widening tunnels, etc. Rural electrification, and farm security extension may await allocations of funds in the regular budget. The proposed grid power system to link TVA eventually with the St. Lawrence is also slated at present for separate handling. Additional housing funds up to $800,000,000 will be sought through revival of the Wagner bill.

The guiding forces behind the program all appear in favor of such a course, although Roosevelt may yet bundle them all together if he wishes.

SERIAL STORY

GOAL TO GO

BY W. H. PEARS

COPYRIGHT 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY. When the sports-writers turn on Landis, Bill decides to take Drowsy's advice about Dot. He walks home with her, asks her to go to the dance. She accepts, tells him she can manage her father, help Buck get the coaching job. Helen is waiting for Bill. She is thrilled with a new dress for the dance. Painfully, Bill tells her he has asked Dot.

CHAPTER VI

CHARACTERISTICALLY, Julius Peskin kept Bill late the night of the dance. Hurrying to get ready, he had no chance to see the evening Clarion. He was in the bedroom knotting his tie when Buck wheeled to the doorway.

"Heard the news, Bill?"

Crouched before the mirror, Bill shook his head.

"Landis has been fired."

"Say that again, Buck," Bill gasped.

"He 'resigned' following last night's defeat," Buck continued. "The man who takes his place has a rough road ahead. Two games left and less than a week to get ready for the first one!"

"Could you do it, Buck?"

"With luck, fellow."

Bill caught his father's shoulders in an iron grip. "You're going to get the chance, Buck. Don't you see? Now we can really fight. We don't have to worry about taking somebody's job. Every fellow on the squad will put up a howl for you."

"Buck looked doubtful. "I don't know..."

Bill said impulsively, "And when I see Dot—"

"Dot?"

"Dot Skelton. I—I'm taking her

The table on the right illustrates how easily you can buy an Opportunity Farm.

Opportunity Farms are real values recognized by experienced farmers who know farms. For the year ending August 31, 1940, 1051 of the 1172 Opportunity Farms sold were bought by farmers. Of this number, 664 were bought by tenant farmers who saw their chance to own thriving farms.

Why wait longer to own the farm you've always wanted? Consult your Opportunity Farms agent today and see how easily you can share in these excellent farm values.

WHAT IS AN OPPORTUNITY FARM? An Opportunity Farm, to earn that name, must have adequate, sound, well-painted, weather-right buildings; improved soil, with good drainage; and expertly planned crop rotation. Every farm is a going concern.

TROUBADETTES TO SING IN CANTON

A new, clever little gadget may save you a pair of gloves, or even several, if you have a propensity for losing them. It's a gold-plated chain with simulated jewel ornament that fastens your gloves, leashlike, to your handbag. And, incidentally, since you will handle them less, your gloves will stay clean longer.

Streamlining is practically useless on a vehicle up to a speed of 35 miles per hour.

LEGION AUXILIARY

Mrs. Charles Edous has invited members of the American Legion Auxiliary to her home, 503 Hennepin avenue, for an all-day rag sewing on Wednesday. A scramble luncheon will be served at noon. The Auxiliary business meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in G. A. R. hall.

Germans Scoff at U. S. Aid to Great Britain

Berlin, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Official German spokesmen today said the 50-50 division of United States munitions production with Britain, announced yesterday by President Roosevelt, was "English-American propaganda". These troops, at full strength, will number approximately 92,000. The 33rd division, an Illinois organization, is to go into active service in January for training at Camp Peay, Tullahoma, Tenn. The other divisions also will train in the south. The transfer was part of the war department's policy announced last month to separate command of tactical forces in the army from the administrative duties of corps area commanders. Report Nazi Bombers Hit British Cruiser Berlin, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The German high command announced today that its Stuka dive bomber forces, on counter-attack duty against Britain, scored two bomb hits on a 10,000-ton British cruiser yesterday, damaging it so that its "loss is expected". It was the second time in as many days that the high command had reported bomb hits on 10,000-ton British cruisers.

The daily communiqué said six merchant ships totaling 34,000 tons "were sunk with certainty" yesterday by aerial bombardment and two others totaling 7,000 tons "in all probability were destroyed".

Flees "Unbearable" Europe

This unusual character photo of Ignace Paderewski, made when he recently arrived in New York on his 80th birthday, suggests the rugged character which made the famed piano genius one of Poland's great postwar leaders. His leonine mane is silvered and his frame is fragile, but he stood erect as he reentered the land where he won his greatest acclaim, declaring he could no longer stand "the unbearable atmosphere of Europe."

Two-Year-Old Lost in North Georgia Woods; Hundreds Join Search

Cartersville, Ga., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Hundreds of men tramped the rough, pine-covered hills of this north Georgia rural section today in search of two-year-old Murray Upshaw, Jr., missing since yesterday noon from his farm home 13 miles north of here.

Heavy frost covered the ground in that section early today and temperatures were near the freezing mark.

The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Upshaw, was last seen playing with his dog in the yard surrounding the family home. His mother, the former Betty Raines, one of two girls reared by the late Mrs. Corra Harris, Georgia author, missed him a short time later.

Sheriff George W. Gaddis said an all-night search in which the child's father took part failed to reveal any trace. Many sections of Bartow county, where the Upshaw home is situated, are pitted with "test holes" dug in the manganese mining.

Officers discounted any theory of kidnapping. C. J. Jolly, clerk of county commissioners, expressed belief the boy had wandered into the heavy pine woods.

British Navy Quits Eastern Island Base

Shanghai, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The British navy was reported officially today to have abandoned Liukung island off Shantung peninsula, which it used as a base for summer maneuvers, for "the duration of the European war."

Japanese marines landed on the island several weeks ago after Japanese-sponsored Chinese regime at Nanking had declined to recognize renewal of a 10-year lease granted by the British by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

The British consul at Weihaiwei reported that naval stores on the island had been shipped to Hongkong and that a maintenance party stationed there had departed.

DeWitt MacKenzie has deduced that Churchill is fishing for more American destroyers; there is other evidence to suggest that the English soon will be asking for American cargo ships or credits with which to buy them.

MINNESOTA AND MICHIGAN TO COLLIDE IN GRIDIRON CLASSIC FOR BROWN JUG

Minneapolis, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Michigan and Minnesota collided in a gridiron masterpiece today before 64,000 in Memorial stadium.

The Gophers concentrated on stopping the Wolverines' great Tommy Harmon for the third straight year. Harmon played against Minnesota in 1938 and 1939, but has yet to score on the Gophers. At Ann Arbor last fall George Franck and Bruce Smith did for Minnesota what Harmon had been billed to do for Michigan, and Coach Bernie Bierman's squad emerged with a one-sided 20 to 7 victory.

Tommy had more to work with today in the annual little brown jug battle and he was backed strongly by Michigan's loyal fans to end a six game losing streak to Minnesota. Michigan last defeated Minnesota in 1932 by a 3 to 0 count.

This year all of their opponents have scored against the Gophers. Michigan has blanked all its foes except Michigan State, which counted two touchdowns. The Wolverines held California, Harvard, Illinois and Pennsylvania scoreless. The Gophers have yielded seven touchdowns—to Washington, Nebraska, Ohio State, Iowa and Northwestern.

Gov. Elect Renews His Pledge of No "Green Machine"

Chicago, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Dwight H. Green, whose clear-cut victory in the gubernatorial race gave him undisputed leadership of the Republican party in Illinois, has renewed his pledge that there would be no "Green machine" in the state.

At the same time he expressed satisfaction that the party had come through a hard campaign "united as never before."

"We are going to have a strong party, of course," he declared. "But I don't want a Green organization. The party will carry on through its duly constituted units."

The 43-year-old lawyer, who will move into the statehouse early in January, is an arch enemy of political machines. Both of his campaigns have been against solidly entrenched Democratic organizations.

When he ran for mayor of Chicago in 1939 against Edward J. Kelly he was opposed by one of the strongest political combinations in the nation—the Kelly-Nash group. And in the gubernatorial campaign this same combine, assisted by Gov. John Steele's organization, downstate, gave him a fight to the last minutes.

For Meritorious Service

Green had opened his fight for the governorship with a declaration that the "immediate problem is to liberate this great state from the corrupt control of the most powerful and most ruthless political organization in the country."

"A machine is built up by useless payrollers," he said today. There isn't going to be anything like that in my administration.

"Anybody who gets a job is going to get it with the idea that he does a full day's work. We're going to have an economical government for a change."

"I want to improve the character of the civil service—make it a meritorious civil service, not a political one."

"And as soon as possible I hope to remove the sales tax on food, as I promised during my campaign."

Meeting of WCTU Is Held Thursday

Mrs. H. W. Stauffer was hostess to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union Thursday. The president, Rev. Helen Peters, presided throughout. All seemed to feel a deeper appreciation of our democracy as "America" was sung. Rev. R. W. Ford voiced the opening prayer, which was followed with favorite scripture quotations from those present.

Miss Callie Morgan called for some of the recommendations of the national president. Mrs. R. W. Ford read for Mrs. C. E. Hill the one for director of evangelism, asking that greater emphasis be placed upon spiritual values, evangelistic meetings and special days of prayer.

Mrs. Ed Holbrook read those applying to Youth work and added her report of the organization of a Loyol Temperance Legion last month with a charter membership of sixteen and asked the cooperation of all churches.

Rev. Peters stressed membership in the local union.

Mrs. C. P. Tibbets brought to mind the importance of the distribution of temperance literature, more reading of the official organ, Union Signal, and desired that the Young Crusader, the children's magazine be placed in every church school.

An invitation from the state secretary urged the attendance of the Union and friends at a state conference to be held at the Presbyterian church of Rochelle Nov. 19. Paul Thurlow, an attorney from Chicago, will be the guest speaker.

One new member, Mrs. Loomis, was gladly received.

The address by Rev. Ford was instructive and very convincing. His theme, "Alcohol Education," was illustrated with pages taken from the magazines and other literature found on the tables of our best citizens. He said "The great end of education is to discipline rather than to train the mind, to teach it how to think rather than what to think. Education begins with life. The foundations of character are laid before we are aware of it. The church believes in teaching the habit of self-control which is the bringing of passions and prejudice under control of will and reason. The cartoons illustrating were amusing, sentimental, current events, economic, history, athletics and who's who, tastes, esthetic and feminine appeal. Half truths are worse than whole lies, therefore, the church should talk back to the liquor interests, who twist history, ally drinking with generous qualities and urge drinking as a part of being a good fellow with like cartoons showing the whole truth. Temperance is a virtue which must be free and not forced, therefore, virtue cannot be created by law."

The Union immediately acted upon some of these suggestions for the education of our youth. December 3, the state president, Mrs. Maude Fairbairn, will Pictured above is a view of the Dixon Packing company picking department taken at the height of its busiest season, which according to H. L. Schumacher, manager, lasts about three months. During this rush period, 17 people are employed in this section of the plant, and over 1,000 chickens are dressed every eight hours.

Approximately 10 carloads of dressed chickens are marketed during this period and nearly 42,000 individual birds are put through the department. The local plant is owned by Priebe and Son of Chicago, one of the largest poultry packing organizations in the country.

Value of Scouting
Attested by Boys of Blackhawk Area

That scouting has been helpful as well as entertaining is the testimony of leading scouts in Dixon and nearby communities. Young men of this area who have qualified for the high rank of Eagle Scout last year, were asked to give their answer to the question, "what has been the value of scouting to you?" The following answers were given by young men of the Blackhawk area who had completed the training necessary to qualify as Eagle Scouts.

(1) "I feel that Scouting has helped me mentally. The training I received in the Boy Scout Camp and teaching in Waterfront activities has been very beneficial to me. It has given me the fellowship of excellent boys and good leaders. Circumstances made it possible for me to help save a life by applying the general first aid knowledge I learned in Scouting."

—Eagle Scout Robert Sanborn, Troop 89, Dixon, Ill.

(2) "It helped me to develop the ability to stick to a thing until it is completed and the Scout Oath and Law gave me a code of ideals to live up to. Scouting helped me to overcome a physical handicap. It has helped me to get along better with my fellowmen."

—Eagle Scout Robert Jamison, Troop 90, Sterling, Ill.

(3) "Scouting has made me more self-reliant in the out-of-doors and at home. It has helped me to think about somebody besides myself and to assume responsibility through instructing others in Scoutcraft. I have had a grand time in Scouting."

—Eagle Scout Jack Petersen, Troop 3, Rockford, Ill.

(4) "Scouting has helped me to do things myself without anybody helping me do it. It has taught me to always help someone."

—Eagle Scout Robert L. Peek, Troop 45, Rockford, Ill.

(5) "Scouting taught me how to get along with other boys of my own age and to lead and younger boys."

Obituary

Funeral services for John Manis, Mount Morris resident for the past three years, who died from a heart attack at his home east of town Wednesday afternoon will be held at the Fouch funeral home this afternoon at 2:00 p. m. Dr. H. C. Hightower officiating with burial in Oakwood. Mr. Manis was born in Kansas, is 57 years of age and is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Francis Koff and two sons, Mack and Marvin, both of Mount Morris.

Mount Morris Woman's club met in the Methodist church parlors Monday and in addition to routine business matters the constitution and by-laws were amended in several sections. The group pledged itself to the support of National Education week, heard a report of the Regional Institute, and an address by the thirteenth district chairman of international relations.

Among the important changes in the constitution and by-laws is the amendment which increased the membership of the executive board to include the chairman of the standing committees in addition to the officers of the organization, so that the new board will now number around twenty members and will meet monthly to transact business.

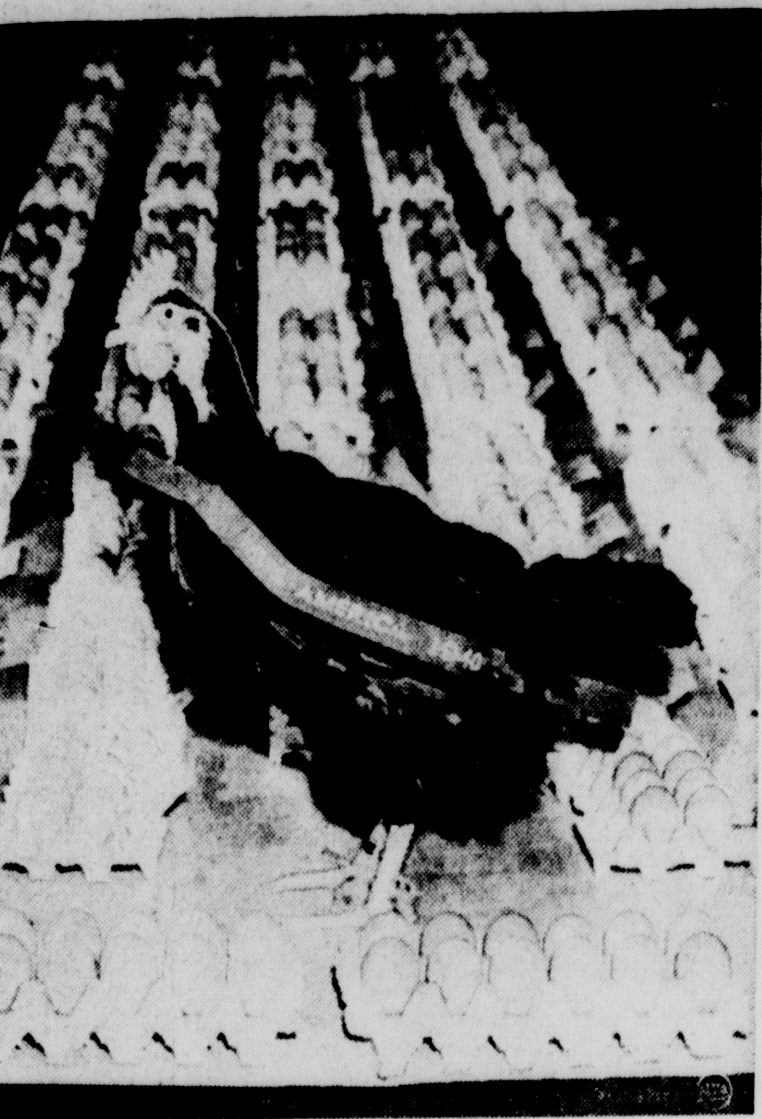

Mrs. Carroll Boston, president of the club, called the attention to the women that the local schools are observing National Education Week from November 10-16, and parents and friends of the students are invited and urged to visit the schools and get a glimpse of the inside happenings there from day to day.

Mrs. Elta Rittenhouse who attended the Regional Institute at Freeport on October 18 brought back to her fellow club-women some of the highlights of the day. The names of four new members were presented by Mrs. Leslie A. Watt, chairman of the membership committee, and Mrs. Hobart Smith, chairman of the finance committee, gave a report of the profits made from the recent apron sale project.

The speaker for the evening, Mrs. Glenn Craddock of Morrison, was introduced by Miss Edna Coulson, local chairman of the international relations committee. Mrs. Craddock who had just returned Sunday from a rather extensive trip through five of the western states spoke on "Facing Facts." In these recent travels she endeavored to pick up the sentiments of all walks of life and is still convinced that there are many serious facts that cannot be avoided. She expressed the opinion that there is nothing in all the world stronger than public sentiment which can have a powerful influence on the social and economic state of affairs.

According to Mrs. Craddock, two of the main facts to be faced at present are, first, the problem of unemployment, national health and education, and second, the problem of peace. While she considers it a wonderful privilege which she would not want with-

Miss America? Eggsactly!

Not many beings would be proud if each of their endeavors laid an egg, as the saying goes. But this Rhode Island Red, owned by E. B. Parmenter, of Franklin, Mass., feels like crowing because when she counted her chicks before they hatched, she found she'd laid a total of 340 eggs last year. So, though she's no spring chicken, she was chosen "Hen of the Year" at Northeastern Poultry Producers Council recent convention in Atlantic City.

held, at the same time she feels that the right of freedom of speech, etc., is sometimes taken advantage of to such an extent that the criticism is more harmful than constructive. This is especially true of the government and its policies.

In this era of intellectual and moral confusion, it was pointed out that forums, study groups, traveling and careful reading are all strong influences on one's thoughts and should, therefore, be taken advantage of insofar as possible. She cited that men are often working at cross purposes—one group to perfect crops so that they will grow more abundantly and another to urge the farmer to cut down on his produce—in- stead of planning and cooperating so that more of the poorer people can enjoy the plentiful production which is possible.

Along the line of the crying need for a world peace, Mrs. Craddock emphasized the difference in travel-time distance and communication time, both of which tied us more closely to other countries. She expressed the desirability that the two American continents should be more united than they have been in the past, calling attention to the two words used quite frequently during past relationship—exploitation and expropriation—in dealings with our South American neighbors. Actually, she cited, South America was cultured long before its northern neighbors, but its business men did not have the genius to keep pace, partly because of climatic conditions in some parts of that country.

Mrs. Craddock also feels that we should know the Asiatic people better—attempt closer connections with Chinese people so that they will not join with the Russian communistic people who are a dangerous element and might present a vital problem should they get the Chinese interested in their beliefs.

In closing the speaker recommended that the group should read Anne Lindbergh's "The Wave of the Future," in which that well known personage expresses the belief that there is still time in which to find a way out of the confusion now existing and she asked that each member make an individual effort and the club as a whole should face the facts intelligently.

"POWERFUL OPPONENT"

According to an AP dispatch this morning from New York City (where the Wisconsin Badgers meet Columbia this afternoon)—"The Badgers' weight advantage plus the power of their two backfield stars, George Paskavan and Don Miller, made them slight favorites." For the first time in recent history, Wisconsin is now being called "a powerful opponent." And breathes there a fan who doesn't know that Don Miller is Dixon's contribution to the Wisconsin squad? ... and by the way, Grantland Rice picks Wisconsin to win.

OPEN CAGE SEASON TONIGHT

Coach John Mitchell and his Franklin Grove Tigers open their basketball season tonight at Rollo. This will be the first of the 1940-41 games in the neighborhood.

TRIAL BALLOONS

Bert Cummings was around last night sending up trial balloons to see what the weather is like aloft for the industrial league basketball season. Thus far the enthusiasm has been pretty small, but if you're interested in continuing the league this year, let us know and maybe a meeting can be arranged. Without a burst of interest, there isn't much use in carrying out the idea again—and thus far no one seems to give much of a whoop. How about you?

ADDED TOUCHES

The excellent drilling and playing of the high school band and the lucid broadcast of each play by Dr. Raymond Worsley, added much to last night's football finale.

LAST GAME

Wholesale substitution gave nearly everyone a chance to play last night and was the last game of their careers for Donald Valle, John Vaughn, Clell Weidman, James Carter, Robert Sanborn, Clarence Kelly, Seberino Padilla, Warren Volder, Bill Shultz, Harry Quick, Fred Sanford, Robert Travis, and Jack Ferger. Congratulations, fellows, on a fine season of five victories, two ties and two defeats. All in all, it was a good season, and we all had a lot of fun in the first season in which all games were played at night.

INJURED ANKLE

With basketball practice on the docket following the close of the football season last night, Clarence Kelly may be forced to stay out of practice for a while due to an injury to his right ankle in last night's tangle. According to the coaching staff, his ankle has been troubling him for some time and he suffered a bad sprain last night.

MATCH GAMES

Several match games are on tap for local legions this week end. Tonight the Dixon Recreation traveling quintet will roll the Mayers' Recreation at Rockford at 9 o'clock. The same local team will roll at Hincley tomorrow night at 7 o'clock. Three matches are to be held here tomorrow with Belles Bros. of Freeport meeting Belles' Bread at 2:30 o'clock; Wahl's Market of Sterling will roll Schlitz Beer of Geneseo at 7 o'clock and the Dixon Chauffeurs Local meets Freeport Central Labor Body at the same hour.

DUCKS BEWARE

As of last night, Coach C. B. Lindell of the high school varsity, Coach Charles Roundy of the Alumni and George Banta were planning a hunting trip for this morning. The rival mentors had buried the hatchet.

OFFICIATING

Two locals boys made good in officiating football games yesterday and last night. Bob Underwood was headlinesman for the Mt. Morris-Amboy game at Amboy yesterday afternoon and his former high school teammate, Paul Potts worked at the same position in the game here last night. With Willard Powers of Mt. Morris and Fred Parker of Rockford, the Dixon officials completed a trio of first class officials who did a swell job.

ALUMNI RETURN

Bill Moser, football and basketball ace of last season, was among those at the alumni game last night. Bill is now a student at Beloit college at Beloit, Wisconsin. Elwood McCleary, track star of last season, who is now attending school at Cornell in Iowa, is also spending the week end here.

T. N. T. FAILS TO WORK

Two water jugs, one marked with red skull and cross bones and the other labeled "T. N. T.", were used by the alumni gridders last night in an effort to fire up to a steam which would push them through the high school line. But something went wrong and the fire water failed to sizzle the grads.

The final blast was featured by some outstanding football tactics by May, the Hubs' quarterback, who counted four of the winners' touchdowns.

The first Rochelle goal was made in the opening period when May tossed a 30-yard pass to DeGryse.

Later May swept around left end for 31 yards to another touchdown and came back to romp eight yards around the same end for the third tally. Twice more he scored, smashing through the line and romping left end.

Harlem scored in the final period from the 1-foot line after a series of overland plays and passes. Burdick did the scoring for the visitors.

HOOSIERS REVAMP LINEUP

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 9—(AP)—Indiana university offers a revamped lineup today as it tries to maintain an unmarred record in its series with Michigan State college.

In three previous meetings the Hoosiers have won twice; the third game was a draw.

Joe Toffi, crimson fullback, was chosen by Coach Bob McMillin to call signals in place of Harold Hursh.

The Spartan game closes Indiana's home season.

NORTHWESTERN FAVORED

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 9—(AP)—Northwestern's once-defeated Wildcats take the field as an overwhelming favorite today to defeat Bob Zupke's Illinois eleven and register their fourth Western Conference victory.

Both teams are in good shape for the clash, although Northwestern's Bill DeCorrevont may not see service because of a lame ankle. The Illini has lost four straight games while the Wildcats have won four of five, bowing only to Minnesota.

It is estimated that automotive tax revenues for 1940 for the 48 states will show an increase of approximately $80,000,000 over the receipts of 1939.

"Jerry" Puts Dent in Morale of Two Colorado "Scribes"

(Newly-arrived in London, two Colorado-born newspapermen, Alfred Wall of Longmont, and William W. White, of Boulder, tell of their "baptismal" experiences under the British aerial siege in the following dispatch.)

By Alfred Wall and William W. White

London, Nov. 9—(AP)—"Jerry" may not have undermined British morale, but he put an awful dent in ours in the first 24 hours in besieged London.

Coming from the peaceful United States via Sunny Lisbon, we watched all along the railroad route to London for bomb damage and saw but little—and then stepped into an air-raid alarm the minute we swung off the train.

We saw people running. The sirens were wailing. We could almost hear the German bombers overhead.

"What'll we do now?" we frantically asked a porter. "Well, you can go into that shelter over there," he said, pointing.

"Let's go!" we said. And then, as he lingered, "Hurry up. Aren't you coming?"

"No," he said nonchalantly. "I'll just hang around here with your luggage."

So we stayed, too. And we saw, then, that the people were running to catch a train, not to take shelter.

Londoners Amazing Nothing happened...right then, but plenty happened in the next 24 hours to curdle our nerves. Londoners, used to it, seemed amazingly unperturbed. At least, it's bad form to show concern over danger, we learned.

Although we found the black-out a horrible, ghostly experience it was nothing compared with the intense terror of the first bombing we underwent.

Drew Middleton and Hugh Wagon, of the London AP staff, remarked casually after dinner: "It's a fine night for him."

"Him who?" we said. "Jerry," said the doorman. "He's all about."

We just got into our hotel room when it began...First a distant clatter of anti-aircraft guns crackling like monster Fourth of July fire-crackers, then a droning roar of planes high overhead.

After a few moments of heart-bobbing suspense, the bombs started to fall about half a mile away. A stick of bombs, each coming closer, seemed to shake the room, making footing insecure, making our knees shake.

They'll Do It Every Time

May Get Used to It

Wall: By golly, Bill, I'm scared.

White: So'm I. But we can't let this get us down. Let's try to sleep and forget about it.

Wall: Okay, I'm game.

We tried, but couldn't. When the bombs begin to fall, a nameless terror, a feeling of absolute helplessness takes hold and shakes you. It makes flight—anywhere—seem the only thing to do. But there was nowhere to fly.

We dressed hastily and went downstairs, heading for the hotel shelter. Calm Britishers sipping drinks, reading books, looked up as we dashed in, making us feel sheepish. So we went back to bed—and awakened hours later to the soothing sound of the "all clear" signal.

Sometime, somehow, we guess we'll get used to it—maybe.

Land Shortage in Corn Belt Result of New Movement

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 9—(AP)—A youth movement back to the farm born of depression is creating a land shortage in the corn belt, says the president of the American Country Life Association.

Mrs. Raymond Sayre of Ackworth, Ia., in her president's address at the association's annual dinner here, reported 24,702 rural families could not find farms to live on this year in the corn states.

Some 800 persons from farming areas of the United States were at Purdue University for the four-day convention of the association, to end today.

"Lack of industrial employment in the cities has backed youth up to the land to such an extent," Mrs. Sayre said, "that for the first time since its beginning the trend cityward has stopped."

In the 1920's, she pointed out, about 6,000,000 persons moved

Big Conference of Catholic Charities Organizations Soon

Chicago—An invitational booklet just issued by the Archdiocese of Chicago enumerates the more than one hundred outstanding speakers to appear at this year's meeting of the National Conference of Catholic Charities to be held November 17 to 20 at the Stevens Hotel in Chicago. The convention is being conducted in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Superior Council of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, volunteer members of which are administering personally to the poor in 2500 Catholic parishes in the United States.

This year's convention will mark thirty years of the organization's existence and upwards of 3000 delegates are expected.

They comprise a cross-section of leaders of organized charities and social welfare fields in addition to officials in cities, state and Federal governments. More than half of the Archbishops and Bishops of the nation will be on hand, seventy have already sent in their acceptances to attend the Solemn Pontifical Mass to be celebrated by Archbishop Stritch on Sunday, November 17th at the Cathedral of the Holy Name amid all the traditional splendor of the 19 century-old Roman Catholic Church.

"Coming on the eve of a tremendous transition in the social and spiritual lives of our people," from farms to cities; in the decade just closed, only 2,174,000 did so.

"To the problem of decreased economic opportunities for youth in industry," she observed, "has been added the problem of the growing population pressure on land."

Urges Cooperation

Earlier, Henry C. Taylor of Chicago, director of the Farm Foundation, told the association this country's Forney-Macumber and Smoot-Hawley tariff acts "had much to do in sowing the seeds of war."

"The self-sufficiency policies of nations like the United States and the British commonwealth of nations," he said, "force other nations like Italy, Germany and Japan, which are not so blessed with rural resources, to adopt a policy of aggression to acquire resources."

"The only road to world peace," he concluded, "is to be found in international co-operation in the utilization of the world's potential supplies of foods, fibers, metals and mineral fuels."

Growth of Giant British RAF Will Win, Envoy States

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 9—(AP)—Growth of a gigantic British air force which may some day take complete mastery of skies over the territory of the axis nations was pictured by R. G. Casey, Australian minister to the United States.

"It is my personal conviction that victory will be won for the British side in this war when we have, in due course, attained air superiority," Casey said in an address prepared for his appearance before the Mid-Day Luncheon club.

"During 1941 the tide will begin to turn," the minister added. "It is because I believe that the decisive victory will be won in the air that I hope the coming months—the coming year—will see a rapid increase in the output of aircraft factories in this country—to supplement the most strenuous efforts that we are making in all parts of the British commonwealth. x x

"When the time comes for Great Britain to begin its air offensive against Germany on a large scale, there will be no lack of trained pilots and skilled personnel."

"In a word, we in Great Britain and the other British coun-
